FARMER REALIZE DANGER.
Willing to Take Advice of Department of Agriculture in Fighting Boll Weevil.

Atlanta, Oct. 10.—E. Lee Worsham, state entomologist, Monday discredited the reports from Washington that the department of agriculture had discovered a means for eradicating the boll weevil in the south. Mr. Worsham returned from LaGrange, Greenville, Hamilton and Talbotton, where farmers' rallies were held last week.

The state department is working hand in hand with the government, he said. If the government has solved the problem it would give the southern states the benefit of it immediately, he said, and the Georgia bureau would have some knowledge of the line of operation.

The campaign last week demonstrated that the farmers have at last realized the danger of the weevil and are willing to follow instructions of the department, he said. The spread this season has taken the weevil to within 100 miles of South Carolina. Next year, he predicted, the weevil will jump the Savannah river and penetrate the Carolina fields.

Mr. Worsham expected to leave on Monday evening for Ellaville, to join T. O. Barber, of the United States bureau of entomology, to push the campaign in that section of the State.

PREDICTS AN UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN GERMANY AND RUSSIA.
Harvard Professor Predicts Peace Negotiations Between Slavs and Teutons.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 20.—Hugo Muonsterberg, professor of psychology at Harvard, in an address tonight before the International Political club of the university asserted that he had been reliably informed that Russia and Germany would sign terms of a separate peace before spring, and that after this peace there would be an alliance between Germany, Russia and Japan.

"I knew from reliable sources," he said, "that Russia is out of joint, is half bankrupt, is starving and will be ready for a separate peace before spring. The result is to be an alliance between Germany, Austria, Russia, and Japan. Japan and Russia are pushing toward this combination and an overwhelming majority of the Germans would welcome it today. It is the old Bismarkian tradition that Germany ought to be the friend of Russia and that such an alliance would be her surest protection."

"If we really want to bring peace for a generation there is no hope but to bring Germany and England to an understanding before Germany and Russia have formed an alliance. Neither the English nor the German people want this peace today but they ought to want it, for once the new alliance is formed it will seek to crush the ambition of England for world power."

"Some neutral groups in Europe are seeking to bring about this understanding between Germany and England. Yet success can be expected only if the government of the United States undertakes this master work."

Tribute of Respect.
Inasmuch as it has been decreed in the Councils of the Supreme Ruler of the Universe and our beloved Brother Edward Moore, has been taken from time to eternity: be it resolved by Enoree Lodge No. 222 Ancient Free Masons,

First, That we bow in humble submission to the will of our Eternal Father in removing our brother from an earthly tabernacle to—we trust—a glorious immortality.

Second, That we extend to the bereaved wife and relatives of our deceased brother our heartfelt sympathies in this their hour of sorrow and we beg to share with them the loss of so worthy a husband and brother.

Third, That we have printed in his county paper this tribute to his memory and enclose a copy to his bereaved wife and also dedicate a page in our minute book to his memory.

Very respectfully,

SPECULATING NOW ON BLESE'S NEXT MOVE.
Gathering of Blease Followers at State Fair This Week Expected to Determine Their Leader's Course.

Columbia, Oct. 21.—Will there be a bolt by the Blease forces in South Carolina?

What course will the James convention take next Tuesday night?

What statement will C. L. Blease, defeated candidate for governor on the democratic ticket, make?

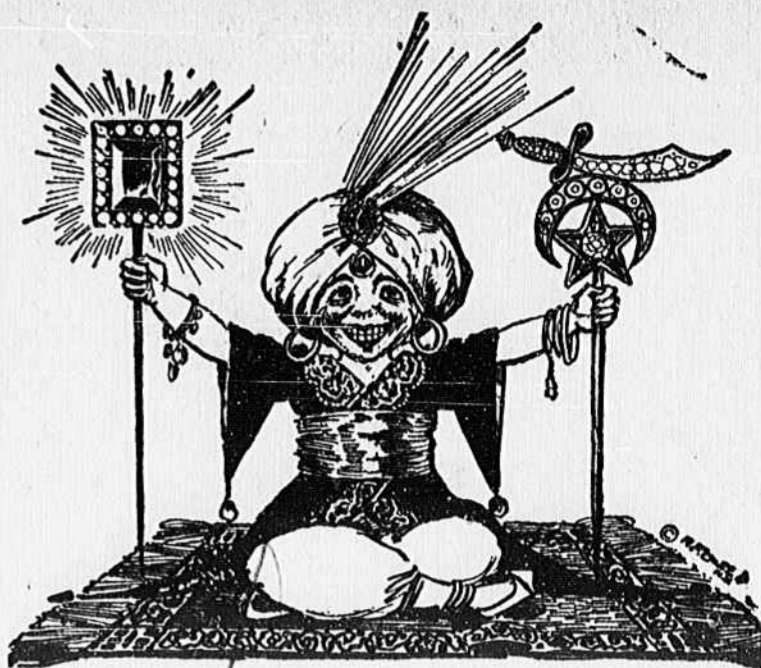

These are the questions that are bobbing up in Columbia on the eve of the gathering of Blease supporters, which will be held in Columbia Tuesday night, during the State Fair.

The State Fair always draws many politicians to Columbia and there is always much talk about the politics of the state for the next two years. Many measures that are to be introduced in the general assembly are always considered at formal conferences held in Columbia while the great jubilee season is in progress.

There has been some discussion of a bolt on the part of the Blease forces. The insinuations have never been denied. Some of the wilder Blease men are openly urging a bolt and one paper has gone so far as to print a proposed ticket with the name of Blease as the democratic nominee.

The level-headed members of the faction in conversation declare that there will not be a bolt and that Mr. Blease will always remain a democrat.
